

In The Shelter

Richard Smallwood

There is a place where winds don't blow,
sorrow or pain it does not know,
love and protection surround my soul;
in the shelter of Your arms.

Lord in Your arms there is much peace,
and from the storm I find relief.
Because I love You, You rescued me,
in the shelter of Your arms.

In the shelter of Your arms,
there I'm free and safe from harm.
Comfort I find and peace of mind,
in the shelter, oh in the shelter,
in the shelter of Your arms
(safe in the shelter, safe in the shelter of Your arms).

Hurt by the pain that life can bring,
steadfast unto Your word I cling.
Lord I find refuge beneath Your wing,
in the shelter of Your arms.

In the shelter, oh in the shelter.

Rock me Lord, oh in the shelter.

Hide me Lord, oh in the shelter.

in the shelter of Your arms
(safe in the shelter, safe in the shelter of Your arms.)
