

Let's Go Out Tonight

Rick Astley

Look at me, hanging on a word, every little word
Look at you, staring out the window
For a different point of view, what should we do?

Nothing's changed, everything's the same
Same old same
Lie in bed, staring at the ceiling
Wish I was somewhere else instead, enough said

Let's go out tonight
Can't stand to look at these four walls
Let's go out tonight

I have found, I can't stand the silence
Can't you make a sound?
What is wrong? I see your body language
Telling me you think it's over, before it's over

Let's go out tonight
Can't stand to look at these four walls
Let's go out tonight

Let's go out tonight
I'll do anything at all
Let's go out tonight

You say we've got to get away
We've outgrown this town, it's so mundane
But if you're asking me
Chance is there but were never gonna leave
Never gonna leave

Let's go out tonight
Can't stand to look at these four walls
Let's go out tonight

Let's go out tonight
I'll do anything at all
Let's go out tonight

Let's go out tonight
Can't stand to look at these four walls
Let's go out tonight

Let's go out tonight
I'll do anything at all
Let's go out tonight
