

This Must Be Heaven

Rick Astley

When I was much younger
It used to happen every night
I had a dream about a city dressed in lights
And there were friends of mine
I saw them time after time
But I never knew their names
And darling I swear
I saw you there
I know it sounds insane

Sweet dreams of a child forgotten so easy
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be something went right
I just know when you're near

This must be heaven
Have I found it what I've been looking for
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door

How could I have doubted
I guess I must have lost my place
You turned on the light
And I saw my life
Reflected in your face

Sweet dreams of a child forgotten so easy oh yeah
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be something went right
I just know when you're near

This must be heaven
Have I found it what I've been looking for
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door

And I always knew that there was something more

Come closer to me now
You fill me up I'm overflowing
Come closer to me now
Come hold me tight and don't let go

This must be heaven
Have I found it what I've been looking for
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door

You fill me up girl
You fill me up and I'm overflowing

This must be heaven
Have I found what I've been living for
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door

This must be heaven
Have I found what I've been looking for
This must be heaven
And I always knew that there were something more
