

Teenage Queen

Rick Derringer

I remember searchin'
For a lonely gravel road
I was nervous that night,
'cause beside me was the girl i loved.

We had planned this moment,
It was gonna be a dream come true.

We were finally alone
There was a lotta things we wanted to do

Now the road was gravel
But it wasn't wide enough to park
I was burning inside,
Driving faster out into the dark.

You might have guessed the outcome,
The end that wasn't in our dream.

It wasn't much of a wreck,
But enough to take my Teenage Queen.

Oh.... I loved her so
I just can't figure out where she did go..

Oh... I miss her so
My mind it still refuses to let her go.

She had eyes that sparkled
Shooting love into your heart
With a wink of her eye
She could always make the pounding start.

But it only took one moment
To take that spark away
I can't forget that night
Have it with me on my dying day

Oh... I loved her so
I just can't figure out where she did go..

Oh.... I miss her so
My mind it still refuses to let her go.

Oh... I loved her so
I just can't figure out where she did go..

Oh.... I miss her so
My mind it still refuses to let her go.
