

The Airport Giveth (The Airport Taketh Away)

Rick Derringer

It's time to go
She holds her tears back
The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The same old show
He says he'll come back
The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

That 747 - it brought me here
There she was, waiting at the gate
It's been almost a year
But showtime is so near
I have to hurry, I just can't be late

She watched me while i played
I watched the girls down front
Seems like some things never change

Tonight our love is real
It's all a man could want
But in the morning, right back in the game

It's time to go
She holds her tears back
The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The same old show
He says he'll come back
The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The airport giveth
The airport taketh away

The airport giveth
The airport taketh away
