The Airport Giveth (The Airport Taketh Away)

Rick Derringer

It's time to go She holds her tears back The airport giveth The airport taketh away

The same old show He says he'll come back The airport giveth The airport taketh away

That 747 - it brought me here There she was, waiting at the gate It's been almost a year But showtime is so near I have to hurry, I just can't be late

She watched me while i played I watched the girls down front Seems like some things never change

Tonight our love is real It's all a man could want But in the morning, right back in the game

The airport giveth The airport taketh away
