

Never Say You Love Me

Rick James

Hello

Hi Rick, is that you?

Yeah, it's me, who is this?

Oh, you forgot my voice already?

What do you want, Marie?

You sound upset. What did I do? I just called to say I miss you, and I love you

How can I tell, Marie? I've been calling you for the last few days. All I get is your service. I mean, what's really going on, baby?

I'm sorry, baby, but I've just been so busy lately

Yeah, I'm hearing how busy you've been. Some of my boys told me they saw you out with your little man

Oh no, baby, that's not true. You know I love only you. Anyway, I said I was sorry

Sorry, that's what you say when you hurt me

Day after day you desert me

And when I just asked you why

You say, "I'm sorry, sorry"

I love you, are these just words that you're saying

When we're in bed and just laying

To keep me here by your side

You say, "I love you, love you"

All these words you say from your heart, will keep us apart

Just lie, won't you tell me why, won't you tell me why, sweet baby

All these words you say are just lies, please tell me why

Just lies, just lies, stupid alibis and silly lies

Am I just a fool in love, or am I too blind to see?

You have found another lover, but you're still playing me

I never want to see your face, 'cause it's finally the end

And I never want to hear you say you love me again

Never say you love me, never, never

Never say you love me again

Never say you love me, never say you love me

Never say you love me again, never say you love me

Never, never say you love me, oh baby, never say you love me

Forgive me, that's what I'm begging you to do

Before you tell me that we're through

Before I break down and cry

Forgive me, forgive me

I need you, although sometimes I don't show it

Deep in your heart don't you know it

So please don't leave me this way

Because I need you

All these words you say from your heart, will keep us apart

You never said you love me, you never said goodbye, never

All these words you say are just lies, please tell me why

No no no no, that's not, never lying, no

Am I just a fool in love, or am I too blind to see?

You have found another lover, but you're still playing me

I never want to see your face, 'cause it's finally the end

And I never want to hear you say you love me again

Never, never
Never say you love me again
Never say you love me, never say you love me, never say you love me
Never say you love me again, never say you love me
Never, never
Never say you love me again, never say you love me
Never say you love me, never say you love me, never say you love me
Never say you love me again, never say you love me
Never say you love me, never say you love me
Never say you love me again, never say you love me
Never say you love

Never say you love me, girl
Never say those words to me
If you wanna be my love
Give me truth and honesty
I'll never play you for a fool
So give the same respect to me
And never say you love me, girl
Unless it's what you really and truly mean
