

You look back in his eyes,
One final time, as you close the door,
And you knew, somehow, a part of you died in that house.
Now there's nobody here can shelter you,
You close up, you hold back the tears,
But you cant fight the pain now, then why do you try?

Go on and cry...
And surrender to it tonight.
Time...
Alone wont heal your wounds.

You still see his face,
It was one time a part of your life,
Now it hangs like a ghost,
Holding you each time you try to move on.
You've tried to bury those memories, but they keep refusing to die,
And you cant let them go just by saying goodbye.

You've got to cry...
And surrender to it tonight.
Time...
Alone wont heal your wounds,
It just makes you numb.
Cry...
Break your heart and do it,
Its alright.
Cry...
Like a child.

Now life it too short to begin it baby,
When the pain gets too strong to deny,
It stands in your way and it wont let you by.

You've got to cry...
Just surrender.
Cry...
Like a child
Time... Alone...
Wont heal your wounds,
It just makes you numb.
Cry...
Break your heart and do it,
Its alright.

Cry...
Like a child.
