Everybody's Cheating

Rick Springfield

Keeping us together and holding us apart Is a love that we talk about I'm finding it harder every day to take it as it comes But as one fool once explained to me you can't choose who you l ove

Everybody's Cheating on the one they love Everybody's looking for the summer sun No I believe I'll love you 'til my life is done I'll live your lies and alibis The telltale stories in your eyes Cause you are, you are the one I love

Yes I love you, like you love me I need you like a lover No you need me and I need you We're still cheating on each other

Everybody's Cheating on the one they love Everybody's looking for the summer sun No I believe I'll love you 'til my life is done I'll live your lies and alibis The telltale stories in your eyes Cause you are, you are the one I love

What is the question What is the answer What is the reason why People like you and people like me Live our lives with lies

Everybody's Cheating on the one they love Everybody's looking for the summer sun No I believe I'll love you 'til my life is done I'll live your lies and alibis The telltale stories in your eyes Cause you are, you are the one I love