

Heart Of A Woman

Rick Springfield

All eyes and appetite
Like a tiger in the night
Watching every move you make
Waiting for the right mistake
A wounded heart has no pride
You cut the deepest part inside
The heart of a woman
The heart of a woman

This time you won't get far
I can see you in the dark
Street lights and strangers' eyes
They'll be my disguise
The clock ticks the night away
Tonight you're gonna have to pay
The heart of a woman
The heart of a woman

You never know what's inside
You can run but you can't hide
From the heart of a woman

One time we were so close
I thought we shared a soul
You were the other half of me
The half that made me whole
Now I'm fighting back the tears
I'll never let you see
And you'll never know
As you turn to go
You tore away a part of me

I know all the moves
What you'll say - what you'll do
How you'll take her to the edge
Leave her hungry sweetly fed
Oh baby you can run but you can't hide
From the heart of a woman
The heart of a woman.....
