

You & Me

Rick Springfield

Leaving the worst behind
Seeing the best is right in front of me
Caught in the chains that bind
Running away from anything that breathes
Of all the things I've said and done
I've burned a bridge and then some
There's no one else I trust to come through

You and me
Will get it done eventually
When all the world will burn
To the point of no return
I know it's true
I found it all comes down to you...

Given this frantic pace
Just having a friendly face to share my pain
Well gimme another go
Just giving it one more show for one more day
I've come to think of all the friends I thought I could depend on
No one else can do what you do oh

You and me will get it done eventually
When all the world will burn
To the point of no return
I know it's true
I've found it all comes down to you and me
Oh, you and me
Falling down the rabbit hole with me
Oh, you and me
Will get to there eventually

You and me
Will get it done eventually
When all the world will burn
To the point of no return
I know it's true
I've found it all comes down to you and me
Oh, you and me
And all the world will burn...
