Violets of Dawn

Ricky Nelson

Take me to the night I'm tippin' Topsy-turvy, upside-down Hold me tight and tell me what you sish for There is no one here around You may sing song my sweet smiles Regardless of the cities careless frown Come watch the no-colours fade Blazing into petal sprays of violets of dawn.

In blissful wonderments enchantment You can lift my wings softly to flight Whirling, twirling, puppy-warm Before the flashing cloaks of darkness gone Come see the no-colours fade Blazing into petal sprays of violets of dawn.

A prince charming I'll be, on two white steeds To give you dappled diamond crowns And climb your towers sleeping beauty 'Fore you ever know I've left the ground You can wear a Cinderella, Snow-White Alice Wonderland gown Come watch the no-colours fade Blazing into petal sprays of violets of dawn.

But if I seem to wander off in dream-like looks Please let me settle slowly It's only me just staring out at you A seeming stranger speaking holy I don't mean to wake you up It's only loneliness just coming on So let the colours fade Blazing into petal sprays of violets of dawn.

Like shadows bursting into mist Behind echoes of this nonsense song It's just a chasing, whispering trail of secret steps Oh see them laughing on There's magic in the sleepiness Of waking to a childish sounding yawn Come watch the no-colours fade Blazing into petal sprays of violets of dawn...
