

You'll Never Know What You're Missing

Ricky Nelson

Have you ever wanted to steal a kiss have you ever wanted to try but you let her get you scared to death and got you so mad you could cry well I'm sorry for you but I really don't know why cause you'll never know what you're missin' till you try (till you try)

Have you ever wanted to hold her tight but you couldn't get up the nerve so you waited till she had to go and got just what you deserved did she smile at you and you never did know why well you'll never know what you're missin' till you try (till y ou try)

You'll never know what you're missin' till you try (till you tr y) You'll never know what you're missin' and that's no lie (that's no lie)
So you better listen to what I say if you wanna kiss her goodni ght
go ahead and hold her close to you kiss her with all your might you better give her the word before she leaves you high and dry

you try)

ou try)
no lie)
So you better listen to what I say if you wanna kiss her goodni
