

Let's Love The Bad Times Away

Ricky Skaggs

Oh, please hold me one more time like you used to do
When you told me how your love would always be true
Let's remember together all the good times we had
And forget now the good times turned bad.

We've grown older and wiser after all we've been through
And this heartache reminds me how much I still love you
Let's forget all our failures the mistakes that we both made
And for the good times let's love the bad times away.

We've grown older and wiser after all we've been through
And this heartache reminds me how much I still love you
Let's forget all our failures the mistakes that we both made
And for the good times let's love the bad times away.

Oh, for the good times let's love the bad times away...
