

Unfamiliar

Ride

You're rushing for a time that you don't know,
Curious of what your feelings are you go

Losing sight of that familiar touch you know,
Sinking into unknown beauty for a day,
Living everything as it comes and goes,
The only times you know have passed away.

Now you're looking back where everything seems here,
Scared of letting all that comfort disappear.
