If I still love the way it goes And if you still believe in me as before I feel alive in middle tone If you still believe that you will stay here in my heart But I want it to stay I will stay free (It's just a simple chord like this) I feel as though you've flown away Inside it's reality that nothing's here to stay But I want it to stay I keep pulling your sleeve There is always somewhere solid for me (No, but I can't stay here anymore) The day is gone and gone Comin' here again and again Too many times for I had longed for you Can't see the point of dreaming, so I'll just let it go Once in a lifetime you will see, the day will come to Today I still watch the stars Together our future lies (And again) I feel as though it's over me But I still believe that I will stay there in your heart Oh I can't let it stay, it's over me No, I can't stay here anymore The day is gone and gone Can't stay here anymore

Oh it's just a simple chord like this

So just let it go
