

Six Feet Under - Worms Of The Earth

Rigor Mortis

Digging their way through rotted earth
Clawing their way from the grave
They're dead but they live and they hunger
And it's fresh human flesh that they crave
The corpses of long dead and rotten
Family and friends that you knew
The legions of lost and forgotten
Are rising and coming for you

Worms of the earth! Worms of the earth!

Your brain can't accept what's happening
Your mind wants to snap at the sight
So numb with fear at your imminent fate
You don't even feel the first bite
Rotted teeth tear the meat from your bone
You watch as they eat you alive
Drinking your blood and chewing your guts
And ripping out your insides

Worms of the earth! Worms of the earth!

Life is over death begins
A new existence with no end
The endless night of death consumes you
Purgatory's grip consumes you
In painful death unholy birth
The living dead - the worms of the earth!
