

Hail to Whatever You Found in the Sunlight That Surrounds You

Rilo Kiley

Hail to those who have come from the sunlight that surrounds you
Pray for those who have gone from the sunlight that surrounds you
Hail to those who have come from the sunlight that surrounds you
Pray for those who have gone from the sunlight that surrounds you
Pretend all the good things are for you

Hail to those who have come from the sunlight that surrounds you
Hail to whatever you've found in the sunlight that surrounds you
Pretend all the good things are for you, pretend all the good things are for me too
And the weather changes not halfway between your house and mine

Pretend all the good things are for you, pretend all the good things are for me too
And the weather changes not halfway between your house and mine

And all of the good things are for me, and all of the good things are for you too
And the weather changes not halfway between your house and mine
