

Well, You Left

Rilo Kiley

You had to move on
You finally gave it rest
You said you had to be strong
You bled all you could bleed
You didn't get what you need
So tell the mutual friends
You went and walked out on me
And now the weather gets cold
But you can finally breathe
Seemed some things are going prefect
They helped you to make believe

I heard you found a new friend
Someone else to hang on to
I hope he holds your hand
I heard he's nice to talk to
But if the weather gets bad
And you feel yourself fall for him
I'll try not to feel satisfied
I'll try and do what healthy people do
I wish the best for you

These are the days they remember you by
But it's not what you say
But how you say it

Did you hear about Scott?
Did you hear that he's gone?
He drowned right off the rocks
Sometimes the currents too strong
And he had friends with influence
And he had friends with influence
And he had friends with influence
And he had friends, yeah they knew him
You can see me there
At the top of the stairs
You'll say we're big on mutual respect, yeah
Because they're peers

I finally found a way to block the sun, it's not for everyone
These are the products of your parents, they grew up
Sun and the sun, and the sun, and the sun
So long, so long, so long, so long
You won't last long, it's dripping mud out here
They don't care what we do, yeah we do
