

Electricity

Ringo Starr

Not so long ago back in Liverpool
Playing every show while working in the factory
Music was the scene, I was on my way
Chasing my own dream with Rory and the Hurricanes
Before he became the keeper of the plane
And by the name of Johnny Guitar

Electricity coming through his fingers
Every time he plays, everybody linger
Electricity, and I still remember back in the day
No one there will forget the way he played
Electricity

As it turned out good
Made it here to Hollywood
Playing just the same
I guess there's things that never change
Just like from the start
Every night I gave my heart
Trying to make it good
Just like I know I could
The gangster of love
Is smiling from above
So we play this one to Johnny Guitar

Electricity coming through his fingers
Every time he plays, everybody linger
Electricity, and I still remember back in the day
No one there will forget the way he played
Electricity

Electricity coming through his fingers
Every time he plays, everybody linger
Electricity, and I still remember back in the day
No one there will forget the way he played
Electricity
