

Chamber the Cartridge

Rise Against

This is noise....

Down beyond these city streets through gutters filled with black debris, in alleys void of any light where nameless things live out of sight.

Down through the scrapers of the sky past neon words glowing all night

Echoes by names between each car, are you happy where you are?

Blind to this impending FATE
we let the world carry your WEIGHT.
It's back breaks with every mile
but we all live in denial! [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

Can we be saved? Has the damage all been done? [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

Is it too late to reverse what we've become? [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

A lesson to learn at a crucial point in time [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

What's mine was always yours and yours is mine...
Let's go!

And so we carry on each day, as if our lives are not so grey,
while every breath that we take we only suffocate.
Brush past a myriad of scenes a homeless vet crashed on wall street,
A single mom of three, a TV personality!

Blind to this impending FATE
they let the world carry their WEIGHT.
Its back breaks with every mile
but they all live in denial! [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

Can we be saved? Has the damage all been done? [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

Is it too late to reverse what we've Become? [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

A lesson to learn at a crucial point in time [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

What's mine was always yours and yours is mine...

Save us, from what we have become tonight....
EYES, glazed with distrust,
No sense of wrong or right [x3]

Can we be saved? Has the damage all been done? [WhooaWhooooaWhooaWhoa]

ooaWhoa]

Is it too late to reverse what we've Become? [WhooaWhooooaWhooo
aWhoa]

A lesson to learn at a crucial point in time [WhooaWhooooaWhooo
aWhoa]

What's mine was always yours and yours is mine...
