

House on Fire

Rise Against

I can see the storms, in her eyes now
We're falling overboard, in the waves
In over my head and she's a high tide
That keeps pushing me away
I thought that we would build this together
But everything I touch just seems to break
Am I your sailor or your anchor?
Am I the calm or the hurricane?
I feel the ground start to shake
I hear a voice shouting: "no!"
But there is no fucking way I'd leave you

So I'll just hold you like a hand grenade
You touch me like a razor blade
I wish there was some other way right now, oh
Like a house on fire we're up in flames
I'd burn you if that's what it takes
To let you know I won't let go of you, oh

And is the soundtrack to our lives the bang of a slamming door
What happens if we all start to feel like
Nothing matters anymore
Every day like a chamber round, a trigger pulled, a hammer click, a breath we hold
A world outside I can't control
No matter what I do

So I'll just hold you like a hand grenade
You touch me like a razor blade
I wish there was some other way right now, oh
Like a house on fire we're up in flames
I'd burn you if that's what it takes
To let you know I won't let go of you, oh

And how is it a thing
That we just wanna hurt each other
I'm waiting on for rain
Cause life is gonna rain forever
Someday you will learn
That all I ever did was for you
And I would do it all again
I would do it all again

So I'll just hold you like a hand grenade
You touch me like a razor blade
I wish there was some other way right now, oh
Like a house on fire we're up in flames
I'd burn you if that's what it takes
To let you know I can't let go of you, oh
