Ready To Fall

Rise Against

Hold on slow down Again from the top now and tell me everything. I know I`ve been gone for What seems like forever But I`m here now waiting To convince you that I`m not A ghost or a stranger But closer than you think She said just go on to what you Pretend is your life but Please don`t die on me

Wings won`t take me Heights don`t phase me So take a step But don`t look down, take a step

Now I`m standing on a rooftop ready to fall (ready to fall) I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall

Perpetual motion the image wont focus A blur is all that's seen But here in this moment like the eye of the storm It all came clear to me I found a shoulder to lean on An infallible reason to live all by itself I took one last look from the heights that I once loved And then I ran like hell

Wings won't take me Heights don't phase me So take a step But don't look down take a step

Now I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall (ready to fall) I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall

I count the times that Ive been sorry (I know I know) Now my compassion slowly drowns (I know I know) If there's a time these walls could guard you (I know I know) Then let that time be right now

Now I'm standing on a rooftop Now I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall (ready to fall) I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall Now I'm standing on a rooftop(ready to fall) Now I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall)
