

Feathergun In The Garden Of The Sun

Rishloo

Rubber like your lover's neck you tripped into the garden, you tripped into the garden of the sun on you tried, unbuttoned eyes, imprelious telusion, tripping pa st your guard into the sun these dreamers, so eager, throw their hands in the fight I spy walrus tooth in the way outside of the shoegaze revolutio n

I'm seein' bright lights, silhouettes of knife fights and I see it all, I see it all I'm seein' bright lights in-between the knife fights and I see it all, I see it all I see it all through the wolves in the walls who might you be, who should you be killing with featherguns when they don't understand you're figh ting for ground control stealing glances colorblind encouraging confusion, crossing all the boundaries undrawn

I spy walrus tooth in the way outside of the shoegaze revolutio
I'm hearin' white lies coursing through the disguises, I hear i t all, I hear it all I'm hearin' lost cries chorusing the night sky and I hear it al l, I hear it all I hear it all through the wolves in the walls who might you be, who should you be
killing with featherguns when they don't understand you're figh

...hands bound behind withered backs, blindfolds laid on hollow eyes too hopeless to hear ready...aim...fire... change ammunition, don't give a war of attrition tacit permissi on to minimize genocide...

I'm seein' bright lights, silhouettes of knife fights and I see it all, I see it all
I'm seein' bright lights in-
between the knife fights and I see it all, I see it all I see it all through the wolves in the walls
who might you be, who should you be killing with featherguns when they don't understand what you're fighting for

I see it all through the wolves in the walls
who might you be, who should you be
killing with featherguns when they don't understand you're figh
