Shades

Rishloo

We're, if at all slaves to a pawn caught in a cautious lie, if at all, staggering weightless haggard stained cynical it all ta stes sweet

Leave me to sway here if at all listing ageless wait, wait and see

Come here to rest and then cosset the crows who murder the rave n and those who cast the losing die

Leave me to sway here if at all listing ageless Wait.

Trace these suicide shades uncovered through this pious lullaby praise to suffer while we brace ourselves shaking hands on the alter

See these paths to there end through the pulse of hate

And now walking along the earth
It always turns inward
To let their souls writhe
Silting softly it is wanting
Hate

Trace these suicide shades uncovered through this pious lullaby pray and suffer
