

Get What's Coming

Rival Sons

You lay on your back and the weak get weaker, you could have been a doctor but at least you're not a preacher

You had a good education until you fired your best teacher.
And when it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming.
When it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming
You lay on your back and the strong get stronger, you say you've got the flu but we know it's just hunger.
You'd better file an extension because it's gonna take longer.
And when it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming.
When it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming.
You sit on your fence and you scream about justice.
Between the have and have-not's only one feels the difference.
And when it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming.
When it comes back around you're gonna get what's coming.
