Embryonic

In a mood like this Don't want to pull away from you Don't want to hurt you Shut you out Or push you away

In the mood like this I want some place that is just mine And nobody else's Just mine

Complete indifference TV life instead of talk We're drifting apart Lip reading And so distant now

I miss what we had I miss someplace that was just mine And nobody else's Just mine Place for me to hide Inside of me

For you I will be For you I will escape again Want to see in your eyes That you want us back That there's hope for us
