

Still Ain't Over You

Rob Thomas

I should have never let you go
Always another
I need this more than you will know
But theres always another

A million by ways and highways
And theres always another
Someone else to pay your way
To try to take your innocence

Theres always
Heartbreak

I hold steady
While youre shaking me loose
You keep breaking me down but I still aint over you
I've been living like theres nothing to lose
And I'm telling you now that I still aint over you

I keep your letters by my bed
And theres always another
I hear your voice inside my head
And theres always another

A waste of time
Wasted our days
And theres always another
Someone else to make you suffer
Make you think this whole thing over

I've been sleeping around but I still aint over you
