

Love Is You

Robbie Williams

If life is a shrine
A whole contempt for the divine
If not for my spine
I wouldn't see it through

Now I like the peace
I'm waiting for a heart to speak
Oh girls and freaks sold love to you

'Cos love is you, love is what you put me through
I am lost, you are too
Love is you

One minute that you fight
Then love would go and change its mind
I have lost all this truth
Loving you

Thought I had to say something
What I should have said is nothing
Kept it swept under the rug

I didn't understand the word after 'You know I...'
And you still don't understand at all

Love is you, love is what I'm going through
I have lost, you have too
Love is you

For me did you fight
Then love would go and change its mind
I have lost all that's true
Loving you

'Cos love is you, love is what you made me do
I am sinking, you are too
Love is you

One minute that you fight
Then love would go and change its mind
I have lost all that truth
Loving you
