

The Cure

Robbie Williams

Wasn't restless
I was fine
Casting pearls before swine
You weren't the temptress
Not at all
Just kind and beautiful

Little by little
You started making me love
We started making it up
We made up over and over and over

Little by little
You started making me love
Don't stop making it up
Let's make it over and over and over

Maybe a cure could change the world
Cause your cure sure changed me

Little by little
You started making me love
You started making me love

I was reckless
You joined in too
I like that about you
You saw it all
That first night
The best and worst of me
But it didn't make you leave

Little by little
You started making me love
We started making it up
We made up over and over and over

Little by little
You started making me love
Don't stop making it up
Let's make it over and over and over

Maybe a cure could save the world
Cause your cure sure saved me

Little by little
You started making me love
You started making me love

I was never gonna fall in love
I was never gonna fall in love
That sort of thing just wasn't for me
I made a promise to myself
A promise that I couldn't keep

It all makes sense now
Me and you

Somehow we made it through
Made it through
Made it through

Little by little
You started making me love
We started making it up
We made up over and over and over

Little by little
You started making me love

Maybe a cure could change the world

Little by little
You started making me love
