

Simple Things

Robert Cray

Look at me, after all these years of lovin'
Can't believe I'm still the one you're dreamin' of
After all these years of love
You still want me

There's a little bit more of me than yesterday
I'm a little bit slower, look at how my hair is grayed
Thought at any time you'd turn and walk away
You still want me

You tell me that you miss me when I go away from home
Just a little overnight trip, honey has it been that long?
How could I have ever done you wrong?
You still want me

I appreciate it

You look as good as the day that we first met
Look at you
The simple things that somehow I forget to say to you
Never make you blue

Look at me, after all these years of lovin'
Lucky me, I'm still the one you're dreamin' of
After all these years of love
You still want me

All these lonely years of lovin'
You still want me
All those lonely, lonely years you suffered
You still want me, yeah

I appreciate it

Can't believe I'm still the one you're dreamin' of
You still want me
