

Honeymoon

Robert Palmer

Touch down in azure water, sun stays out all day
Poincianas coral beach outside our room
Your kisses leave me speechless, ten thousand details
Flicker flash across your features like a gold perfume
Soft winds come fill our sails, dolphins set our course
Gliding over blue champagne sailing the 'Sea Horse'

Feel the sun caress your skin, passions rise like flame
Setting sun crescendos now
Palm-marina water-taxi harbour-view cafe
Tinkling glasses, candlelight, a crowded room
To the beat of samba nova lovers gently sway
Twilight passes, cool sea breezes play our favourite tune

Disappearing evening clouds canopy of stars
Mirrored in the silver bay, you are in my arms
Smooth as satin is the night, warm and sweet your breath
I can hear your melting heart.
