

Woman You're Wonderful

Robert Palmer

You are already dealing
In the terms I dream
Through all the chaos
You're my order in between
Possible sacrifices, darling
You've forseen
And when you please yourself
You end up pleasing me

Oh, woman you're wonderful
Woman you're wonderful

You make my heart start jumping
Show me mercy, please
You know I know
You're something extraordinary
I never have to ask you
Just how much you care
If I wait, I know you'll say
What I want to hear

Oh, woman you're wonderful
So wonderful

I should have guessed
That you are more than meets the eye
From every point of view
You more than qualify
When nothing I do
Seems to make me satisfied
I can rely on you
To take me by surprise

Oh, woman you're wonderful
So wonderful

You make my heart start jumping
Show me mercy, please
You know I know
You're something extraordinary
I never have to ask you
Just how much you care
If I wait, I know you'll say
What I want to hear

Oh, woman you're wonderful
Woman you're wonderfull
