

I Still Belong To Jesus

Robert Randolph & The Family Band

Someone else woke up today
And saw it all in a brand new way
But I still had to turn my head
I still belong

Something saved me long ago
How it happened i don't know
You say it doesn't make much sense
Still I know it's no coincidence

My life was changed
And who's to say
How that love was sent my way
When the night is long and gone
All you need is just one spark
I still belong

Even though I turn my back
I still belong
I still belong to Jesus

The finger pointing preacher screams
He's huntin sinners in his dreams
But Jesus didn't start no war
He reached His hands out to the poor
He said the lame will walk and the blind will see
Take care of my people you'll take care of me

Some folks say He's a fatherless child
But, He brought love and mercy mild
I still belong
Though at times I turn my back
I still belong
I still belong to Jesus
I still belong to Jesus

You've heard about the great new voice
Well I came to in deep remorse
Sometimes I struggle and I stray
