

Only Heaven Can Wait (For Love)

Roberta Flack

We know that it's all over, still we haven't said goodbye,
Pretending life is wonderful, pretending you and I.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.
Waiting for love won't make it happen,
Crying for love don't mean you care?...oh no,
Only when love has ended, can a heart be mended.
Never's too late, only heaven can wait.

In horoscopes, in true romance and Playboy magazine,
We lie in bed at night and search the pages for our dreams.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.
And waiting for love won't make it happen,
Crying for love don't mean you care?...oh no,
Only when love has ended, can a heart be mended,
Ever's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

So we've been together too long, you and I.
There were the children, shared interests, creative interests, business interests, our In-laws,
And then just plain old bad habit.
Now things have changed. you've changed, I've changed and it's time to move on.

So my sweet, you kept doubting that I would understand what you meant when you said you needed your space.

Well, I do understand. I have some more reasons? another purpose to my life? and I'm ready to take my own space? we both deserve it? something real.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever,
Heaven's too late, only heaven can wait.

Why do we stay together, we can't wait forever.
