

Danger

Robin Gibb

Hey there, woman, I came to California
To find a dream - I found you, girl
Hey there, baby, you pointed my direction
I've been reaching for love so long
It's just a holiday, yeah, to have you here
I've been running down avenues
Filled with solitude and restless fears

Danger, slow down, haunting me
Your love, turning me 'round, rescued me
Danger, warning, I've seen the signs
Oh, oh, here I go, this heart of mine

I set sail on a rainy day
Steering my way through the cloudy skies
In this heaven, my dreams are never ending
They're sending me through space and time
You're the center of all my inspirations
In wonderland, it's so divine
I can't escape this energy

You put a spell on me, yeah - no turning 'round
Power of love has no gravity
It's got a hold on me, I'm paralyzed

Danger, slow down, haunting me
Your love, turning me 'round, rescued me

Distant dreams of yesterday
When I was down and far away
You promise me love, but I'm scared of losing
What I got, what I got today

Danger, slow down, haunting me
Your love, turning me 'round, rescued me
Danger, warning, I've seen the signs
Oh, oh, here I go, this heart of mine
