

In Your Diary

Robin Gibb

Oh girl, I want to stay around
But you don't want to see
You say I let you down
Oh girl, it's such a tragedy
But you don't want to see
You say I let you down
All those crazy long gone summer days we used to play
All the memories holding me, I wanna be

In your diary, oh, in your diary, ooh, in your diary, whoa
You didn't mention, you didn't mention
You didn't mention my name

No mercy for the lonely man
You got to give a damn
Don't let me stumble in the rain
I lay it down, it's all in black and white
It's in the book you write
And I don't even see my name
All the years we've traveled

Through the heaven and the stars
All the memories holding me, and now I see

In your diary, oh, in your diary, ooh, in your diary, whoa
You didn't mention, you didn't mention
You didn't mention my name
In your diary, oh, in your diary, ooh, in your diary, whoa
You didn't mention, you didn't mention my name

Oh, in your diary, oh, in your diary, now I realize, whoa
You didn't mention, you didn't mention
Just one look in your diary tells me that you were oh so wrong
You know I played along, you know I played along
You didn't mention, you didn't mention my name
Just one look in your diary tells me that you were oh so wrong
I played along, you know I played along
In your diary...
