

Someone To Believe In

Robin Gibb

We all need somebody
Some stranger in the dark
You know I really love to love you
I gave it everything I got
To find you in someone else's arms
But I was always dreamin' of you

The kind of love you follow
Not without a reason
Every last tomorrow
Every single season
Hold me in your power
Drag me through the fire
Watch me writhe in agony
Make me bleed and all I need
Is someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Why I need someone to believe in

Black night and thunder
Under your spell, you see the man
With the urge to go home with you
One soul forever lost
In your far off distant land
No one watches you like I do
All of life's emotions
