

Over You

Robin Trower

Day is over, fading light
I don't want you to go tonight
I would die for one more hour in your arms
Once were lovers, special friends
Losers now at our stories end
We two together for this one last goodbye
Take this moment keep it fine
Hold it safe in your mind
Taste this pain coz its all that remains of our love

Where the sorrow lives
Where the time forgives
Don't forget that I'm dyin' here inside
Over you

Looking back now wondering
'Bout the sadness that love can bring
And how time turned our bonds into chains
I can see now, I was wrong
Acted bad for so long
Now I know that I needed a show something more

Where the sorrow lives
Where the time forgives
Don't forget that I'm dyin' here inside
Over you
