Antwoman

Robyn Hitchcock

Being just contaminates the void Being just contaminates the void

I remember, some years back, a punky reggae party And a girl who measured your neck Oh I dream of Antwoman With her Audrey Hepburn feelers And her black and white stripes

I know my type and she's out there I know my type and she's out there

With the cactus and the succulent Oh she rises and she hops and then she eats you Then she eats you I ain't gonna argue with a dame like that

See the birds Scattered on your dressing gown See the dark seeds See the dark barristers gliding away Gotta do lunch before you get down To some real judging

"Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord Alright for you and you only

Being just contaminates the void Everybody! Being just contaminates the void

I remember a punky reggae party And a girl who measured your neck 'Cause I dream of Antwoman With her Audrey Hepburn feelers And her black and white stripes

In a southerly breeze In a southerly breeze In a southerly breeze

I ain't gonna ride with a dame like that