Bloodstream

[Verse 1:] I'm ready, I know I'm ready - know the lord has prepared me Got the power to be me, even though my style may vary And I was always taught that you can get rich being scary So I always took a chance, and now I'm becoming legendary Got the broke niggas hatin', the weak niggas hatin' The weak bitches hatin', but we just tryna make it They see a sea full of riches, and they just can't dive They just stay dry and wave shells on guys While I realize that a lot of people be tweaking And it's sad to see 'em starve, but it ain't our fault they ain't eatin' I be winning, indian - Rockie still the beat chief, and Catch the smoke cloud when I'm leavin' I hope you're still breathing... [Hook:] I think I might have inhaled you I could feel you behind my eyes You've gotten into my bloodstream I can feel you flowing in me [Verse 2:] I learned living with a woman at a young age That ain't slow me down, though, still getting dumb paid I been on the grind, ain't have time for one fade in four months I still stunt, and I'm gettin' anything I want Six figure sales keep the homies out of jails Checks coming in the mail, now we living well We knowin' what the worth is and the flow is all purpose Now my leather so soft due to hard verses Eatin' some... while I'm reaching the higher dreams Before I got and travel I've got to explore some different scenes Done with the past, though I've learned from a lot of shit it brings I've got to separate from petty things... yeah [Bridge:] The spaces in between Two minds and all the places they have been The spaces in between [Verse 3:] Evan Williams, Biz Stone, Jack Dorsey Them the type of people that are role models fro me I make a knot stick with the clique like Morty Have a billion by forty and a Coupe all sporty While I'm headin' in the right direction I had options, made a choice and it's a good selection The team I'm on, yeah we gone, and I'm forever reppin' Never half steppin'... Can't say it enough, I'm still about progression I left home, but the kids alright The [?] took some gettin' used to, but the [?] alright Grind all night, work all day for what they say The only way you stay is when you do it your way ...
