

Missed You

Rod Stewart

Hey Pal, let me lean on you and talk a while
Your planes been delayed by the rain or something
I wouldn't even fly away
If I had one good reason to stay

But you said if you don't need my love
I'm gonna find someone who does
And I'm not hanging around
This old heart is far to proud

She got tired of me staying out late every night
I'd fall up the stair thought she'd always be there
But suddenly I'm alone
And I'm not accustomed to sleeping alone

She said if you don't need my love
I'm gonna find someone who does
You've stripped me of everything
And you've torn down all my dreams

It's been two long weeks since she's been gone
Thought I had her in the palm of my hands
She said, I'm through, don't try to call me
'Cause you won't even find me

'Cause if you don't need my love
I'm going to find someone who does
And the heartache you've give me
You'll get it back just wait and see

Well, well, well, well
I'd give anything to hold her in my bed again
I just wanna feel her breath on my back
She said my blood can't give her love, no way

She said if you don't need my love
I'm gonna find someone who does
And I'm gonna take our child
'Cause I don't want him running wild

Hey pal, I think they just called out your flight
Put down your glass don't forget your boarding pass
And if your looking or you found love or sunshine that's enough
And don't play hard to get 'cause that ain't where its at Give her all your love place her high above

I missed you baby
I missed you baby
Yeah, I missed you
