

Love To Burn

Rodney Crowell

You know I love you baby you know I need you too
The life I lead is all I need to make my dreams come true
It was a July night in Houston when first I felt your heat Girl you look so fine in that jukebox line that I forgot I had two left feet
You know I want you baby you know I need you so
The love you make gives me the shakes from my head down to my toes
Your love is something smoking your love is something hot
When I feel the storm rolling in your arms I'm gonna give you everything I've got Every beat of your heart is like a bolt of blue lightning
You heat up the night like a hot summer wind
The taste of your lips just sets me on fire
Everywhere I turn got love to burn again
I love to please you baby and smell your sweet perfume
The way you walk and the way you talk just keeps me on the moon
Your love is high explosive there's dynamite in blue jeans Anytime you choose to light that fuse you're gonna blow us all to smithereens
Every beat of your heart
Everywhere I turn got love to burn again
Everywhere I turn got love to burn again
