

I Am the Drummer (In a Rock n' Roll Band)

Roger Taylor

I'm the drummer in a, in a rock 'n' roll band
One, two, three, four

I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band
I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band

I am the drummer
In a rock 'n' roll band
I'm the heart
The soul, yeah
I'm the man

Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey
Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey

I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band
I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band

I am the conductor
King of time
I am the instructor
They pay me in dimes

Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey
Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey

I like cars that go fast and shiny things
I like girls that go faster on tiny wings
I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band
I am the rock that rocks the bandstand
I am the St Peter, the rock on which we stand
I am the butt of a thousand jokes
From far less talented folks

I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band
I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band

I'm the pulse
I'm the beat
That gets your toes tappin'
I fill the empty spaces
When the singer stops yackin'
I sit way at the back
But I lead the attack
It's a sweaty affair
Going whack, whack, whack

I am the drummer in a rock 'n' roll band
