

People on Streets

Roger Taylor

I said hey Michael Jackson and the politicians
You wanna get out on the street and see what you can do
I said hey Mr President and senators too
I said Mr Prime Minister it's good for you
I said all the Queen's women and all the Queen's men
Better get it together 'cos it's real broken
I said a whatta you need is a lesson in reality
Because the way it stands you're a real liability

Get out and meet, people on streets
Get out and meet, people on streets
You know and I know we're brothers in time
You know the truth is the right of mankind

I said hey all you music stars and DJ's too
You'd better get real quick or it's up to you
And you quiz show hosts who think you're so fine
You talk to people like they're stupid and a waste of your time

And all you movie stars who think you're so cool
Maybe your time is up and it's time for the truth
There's a lot of lessons needed in humility
Because the way it stands you're a real liability

Get out and meet, people on streets
Get out and meet, people on streets
You know and I know we're brothers in time
You know that justice is for all mankind

I said hey Madonna and Roseanne Barr
Well you think that you're big (you're too big by far)
If you think that you're important in the scheme of things
You'd better get real quick 'cos reality stinks
I said hey Ayatollah you're a real big cheese
However much you talk it's just words in the breeze
If you're one of the people can't you prove it's true
Get out on the street and let reality come to you

Get out and meet, people on streets
Get out and meet, people on streets
You know and I know we're brothers in time
You know that justice is for all mankind

Get out and meet, people on streets
