

Romantic Comedy

Róisín Murphy

Only we two are in on it
In on every in joke only between you and me
Stupid romantic comedy
Isn't it a tragedy, nobody gets out of bed?
Laughter at the memory
Smiling at the thought of your face was a picture
Funny the way you spoke about it
If we don't get serious, jokingly into bed
I'm afraid I'm all alone if you don't get this joke alright
Is it not funny anymore?

It's not so much to say
You'd have to laugh
Crowded people pressed together
I can remember your smile forever
Laughing at ourselves, laughing at the world
It's hilarious, it really cracks me up
Laughing at myself, laughing at us
Laughing at the world, it really cracks me up

Joking, I'm the reality
Taking it too serious, how could you laugh in my face?
Cupid is a comedian
Leaving me here bleeding, leaving me bleeding to death
Oh, pray that the hilarity
Activates a gravity bringing me back down to Earth
I'm afraid I'm all alone if you don't get this joke alright
Stupid romantic comedy
Isn't it it a tragedy, nobody gets out of bed?

It's much, much to say
You'd have to laugh
Crowded people pressed together
I can remember his smile forever

Maybe I'm not that funny girl anymore
We had a whole lot of laughs
Looks like you heard all my stupid jokes somewhere before
And we could leave it there
Maybe I ain't got such a funny face after all
I'm not your funny girl
Humour is down to a time and place, the timing is off

Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to be
Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud
Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud
Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud
Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud
Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud

Laugh out loud, laugh out loud, laugh out loud at me
I want you to laugh out loud
I want you to laugh out loud
I want you to
