

Anthem (i Promise)

Roky Erickson

I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you

For you I cool the streets with the wind at night in the day I beat with the sun the cobblestones and cool the wind of the Nile (at night) the earth I fill with diamonds plus light to say they never never bite

I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you

With you God chose me his wife Lucifer and the mother of witches in marriage they unite my gremlins color purple left and light
to say they never, never bite

I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you

I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you

Satans's came to earth view May 9th gremlins have pictures of the anniversary of Christ the square root of zero something smaller than zero which keeps getting smaller keep you out of sight and soul

I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise, I promise
my green and blue eyes to you from
I promise
