Roky Erickson

When it comes to fattening, there's no need for an in
And when it comes to hurting my creations, I don't need a space bin

Sputnik, your theory, alien I'm creator
Sputnik, your theory, alien I'm creator

Everything started by me, it could end, to begin
It could explode out into the cosmos, to begin with nothing on a clear night
As I started it, before infinity been finished

Sputnik, your theory, alien, I'm creator
Sputnik, your theory, alien, I'm creator
Sputnik, your theory, alien, I'm creator

(Interlude)

The sunset on Monterey
In the right place of luxuries
At the right time time time the stars
A familiar, war before me

It was flying, it was flying
Let the space be my replacing friend
All that is acknowledged theorizes love
It dissolves, before it begins
