Roky Erickson

The social and social-political injustices
Are the ones who slander peace and liberty
They are the brainwashers
The propaganda starters
They try to rob you from the cradle
Even though you are unable
They wish they could make you out a replacer
They want there to be a disgracer

The social and social-political injustices
Please leave it be
No artificial nakedness alone
Please find his way home
They try to make you out a non-believer
They try to make you out a deceiver
They want you for all the wrong reasons
They try to make you out that you are for treason

They want there to be an unknower
Not a Christian love bestower
They want there to be paranoia
But they can't succeed
When you have faith
In him and him
And trust each other
Sisters and brothers
