

Bullets For Brains

Roland Orzabal

Well I saw you weeping
One hand on the bible
As I sent your soul to Kingdom Come
Ready to be born again

Well one man sees a wasteland
Another man sees a rainbow
It came to this, the atheists
Got bullets for their brains

Like a goodbye kiss
But then I
I'm putting up a peace-sign
Putting up a peace-sign

Pulling down a peace-sign
Well I believe in angels
They move like a secret army
And they help me blow the atheists sky high

I can't sit still for too long
I'm losing all my patience
I got myself a rocket ship
To make me hip

To take me to the moon
When I lose my grip
I said I
I'm putting up a peace-sign

Putting up a peace-sign
Pulling down a peace-sign
One day, one day in your life
You will see the light

You will see his face again
One day, one day at a time
Soothes the weary mind
You will feel no pain

Bullets for your brain
(I live a very modest life - I'm happy with it)
Hey now, read my lips
Bullets for the brains of the atheists.
